

Parent-Teen Driving Agreement

FROM A PARENT TO A TEEN DRIVER:

Wow! I can't believe you've reached this age—the age when you're old enough to drive. It's a milestone every teenager comes to, and I know how excited you are; I'm excited for you.

Every teenager is excited to take the keys and go on his or her first solo ride, so I'm sure you're ready to get behind the wheel on your own. Before then, it's important that we have a few ground rules to ensure that you are safe and that I have peace-of-mind. Car crashes kill more American teenagers than anything else, so we both need to make sure you're prepared to drive safely, with attentiveness and according to a set of rules and boundaries.

I know you'll be a fine driver, and I know you'll follow the rules we both agree on; then you can have your driving freedom and we both can have the security of knowing you'll be safe!

A Message from the Law Offices of Richard J. Serpe, P.C.

Many parents and young drivers sign a "Parent-Teen Driving Agreement," wherein the teenager promises to drive safely and obey all traffic laws and regulations. These agreements are valuable for reminding first-time drivers that driving brings with it a set of responsibilities that must be followed.

The most common kind of accident for teen drivers involves only a single vehicle – their own. Excessive speed, driver distraction, alcohol use, and lack of seatbelt use all contribute to fatal accidents. One of the ways to combat the high accident rate of teen drivers is to communicate and instill good driving practices.

The Serpe Firm cares about your family and wants you and your teenage driver to stay safe on the roads.

The Law Offices of Richard J. Serpe, P.C. has been helping victims of major personal injuries and families affected by a wrongful death for over 28 years.
